

Virtual Trip: Travel to Katmai National Park, Alaska, USA

Juan frowns. He sighs. He paces up and down his room. “I’m SO bored,” he says. “I can’t go out and play with my friends. I don’t want to read another book, or draw another picture, or build another model!”

Just then the cell phone rang. “Anita here. How about going on a trip with me, Juan?”

“That’s impossible, Anita!” shouted Juan.

Anita laughed. “No, it isn’t. I’ll text you the link right now, Juan. Click on it. Then we’ll fasten our seatbelts for our airplane trip to Katmai National Park in the far away state of Alaska. My cousin told me about it. He said that it’s an awesome adventure.”

You and your family are invited to come along with Anita and Juan.
